Core Services Announces Key Addition of Bruce Kozlowski as Solution Architect.

Morristown, NJ June 28, 2007 – Core Services, an Oracle Certified Partner, recently named Bruce Kozlowski as Solutions Architect. In his new role, Mr. Kozlowski will oversee Core's Oracle solution development, presentations and help manage customer relationships.

"Core is thrilled to have Bruce join our consulting team," says CEO James Bistis. "The depth of his Oracle product knowledge, and his understanding of today's business practices, places Bruce head and shoulders above his peers. As a Manufacturing and Supply Chain guru, Bruce's years of hands-on experience will have a significant positive impact on current and future clients of Core Services."

Kozlowski brings over 35 years of Manufacturing and Supply Chain experience including an 11-year tenure with Oracle Corporation as a Senior Business Development Consultant for North America Strategic Accounts. Previous to Oracle, his successes included leading roles at ESI/Technologies, Inc. and Ford Motor Company.

Kozlowski is a proven manufacturing and procurement specialist. His real world experience has been enriched by over a decade of extensive formal Oracle training and he received a B.S. in Industrial Engineering from the State University of New York, College at Buffalo in 1983. Kozlowski is also certified by the American Production and Inventory Control Society as a CPIM.
