Core Services Leads Exhibitors in its 7th Consecutive Oracle OpenWorld Show

Core Services Continues to Provide Industry Leading Oracle Applications Consulting and Outsourcing Services.

Oracle OpenWorld, San Francisco, CA. November 12th – With over 16 years of consistent growth and profits, Core Services continues to be a dominant service provider in the Oracle marketplace. With the opening of the Oracle OpenWorld tradeshow for over 50,000 registered attendees, Core Services will once again be a major force at this colossal event and proudly highlight a full suite of services that help Oracle clients successfully run their E-Business Suite platforms.

As a Certified Partner in the Oracle PartnerNetwork, Core Services is committed to exclusively supporting Oracle E-Business Suite clients around the world. Since its inception, Core Services has taken the initiative to stay ahead of its competition by strategically and methodically building its world-class global support network. “Supporting customers globally has led us naturally to open offices in Beijing, China, Mumbai, India, and multiple locations throughout the United States,” says Core Services CEO and founder, Jim Bistis

“And with this dynamic growth, Core Services has been able to remain extremely responsive to its client base,” continues Bistis. “We realize that every client has special needs, and we cater to those unique requirements rather than treat a client as an ‘ordinary’ Oracle Applications customer. Core Services’ implementation team and hosting staff is comprised of highly-skilled, knowledgeable individuals whose Oracle experience and expertise allow Core Services to provide service above and beyond that of our competitors.” Bistis concludes, “Our flexibility and superior support has allowed us to proudly exceed a 96% client retention rate.”

With no competing or distracting lines of service, Core Services provides the highest quality support and service to its Oracle E-Business Suite Application clients. “As an extremely client-centric company that is focused on continuous improvement, Core Services has also been profitable every year since inception, an accomplishment that few companies and competitors can match,” explains Keith Inouye, Core Services Vice President of Sales and Marketing.

Shortly before the opening of Oracle OpenWorld Core Services also announced that for the fifth consecutive year, it has received a satisfactory report on selected IT controls, as prepared under the AICPA Statement on Auditing Standards No. 70 (SAS 70). The “Type II” report, which is applicable to Core’s hosting service business segment, will be issued by the New York-based accounting and consulting firm of Eisner LLP.

Core Services recognizes that Sarbanes-Oxley legislation has placed an increased focus on the internal controls, but views the audit report as a tool designed to provide Core’s clients with a certain level of assurance regarding the internal controls consistently maintained by Core Services. “Core Services understands the ever-increasing importance of corporate governance as well as the impact of our organization’s services on our clients’ system of internal controls,” explains Bistis. “The successful completion of the 2007 SAS 70 Type II audit provides our clients with a continued commitment to maintaining a high level of internal controls.”

Core Services stays extremely active in the World Wide Oracle community, including its involvement with the Oracle Application User Group (OAUG). Core Services has once again become a Three Star Partner with in the OAUG, and will have a dominant presence at the upcoming Collaborate 08 Show in Denver, CO. next April.
