Core Services Corporation Constructs Solid Partnership with M-D Building Products, Inc. as Oracle® E-Business Suite Hosting Provider

Somerset, N.J., July 29, 2010 – Core Services Corporation (“Core Services”), an Oracle Platinum Partner, announced today that M-D Building Products, (M-D), (<http://www.mdteam.com>) a leading distributor and manufacturer of home building materials, had its Oracle E-Business Suite successfully migrated to one of Core Services’ SAS 70 Type II Hosting Facilities.

Focused exclusively on Oracle Applications since 1990, Core Services understands that open and responsive communications forge successful client partnerships. “M-D was interested in forging a relationship that provides a higher level of responsiveness and shorter lead times to fix high priority issues,” explains Keith Inouye, Core Services Vice-President of Sales and Marketing. “After M-D thoroughly evaluated several Oracle hosting providers, they knew Core Services was the best fit to meet their unique needs and would provide the right leadership and knowledge to continuously improve their Oracle experience.”

“Core Services immediately proved they respected M-D as a new client while at the same time providing great value as an approachable and easily accessible team for our Oracle hosting needs,” says Craig Wilkerson, Chief Information Officer at M-D. “With the migration completed smoothly, efficiently, and on time, we anticipate a very successful partnership going forward.”

Core Services knows their superior, high-quality customer service has helped their business expand rapidly over the last several years and will continue to drive it forward. Core Services is excited that the addition of its new 50,000 SQ FT Global Headquarters and major datacenter in Somerset, N.J. will allow them to keep on growing while remaining intensely focused on each client’s unique requirements.
